Description

Le Ricaneux, a family-owned berry winery, has been producing wines for over 35 years at the junction of the St. Lawrence Plain and the foothills of the Appalachian Mountains. At Le Ricaneux, fruits are grown with respect for the environment and according to traditional methods. They are hand-picked when ripe and of exceptional quality, resulting in wines with rich, authentic aromas made using traditional know-how and techniques passed down from generation to generation. Le Ricaneux is a small-scale company that values its team, the environment, and visitors. We prioritize human contact and take the time to connect. That's the kind of experience you can expect at Le Ricaneux. Come explore the many facets of Ricaneux on-site with our picnic area, terraces, landscaped paths, self-guided or guided tours, indoor and outdoor interpretation elements, virtual reality videos, board games, and tastings.
